Michael Lehrman
Co-Chief Executive Officer
Cantor Commercial Real Estate (CCRE)

Michael Lehrman is Co-Chief Executive Officer of Cantor Commercial Real Estate (CCRE), a fully integrated commercial real estate finance company with 15 offices, over 300 employees and a $34 billion servicing portfolio. CCRE provides fixed-rate, floating-rate, agency and bridge loans on commercial and multifamily properties nationwide. Since 2010 CCRE has closed over $30 billion in loans and was recently ranked by Crain's New York Business as the #1 Fastest Growing Company in New York.

Mr. Lehrman joined Cantor Fitzgerald in 2009 as Executive Managing Director and Global Head of Real Estate. Prior to joining Cantor Fitzgerald, he was a Managing Director at Credit Suisse and, with Anthony Orso, Co-Head of the Credit Suisse Real Estate Direct Group where they were responsible for over $100 billion in real estate loan origination and over $30 billion of high yield real estate debt distribution. In 2010 Mr. Lehrman, together with Mr. Orso, co-founded CCRE. He also served as Global Head of Real Estate at Cantor affiliate BGC Partners, and in 2011 was responsible for BGC's entry into the real estate business through the acquisition of Newmark Knight Frank and the acquisition and integration of the assets of Grubb & Ellis in 2012. The combined companies now operate as Newmark Grubb Knight Frank and employ more than 5,000 real estate professionals in over 100 offices nationwide. In 2014, Mr. Lehrman was named Co-CEO of CCRE and, with Mr. Orso, successfully led the acquisition and integration of Berkeley Point Capital, a leading agency lender and loan servicer. As a result of this tremendous growth and success, Mr. Lehrman and Mr. Orso were recently ranked #1 in Mortgage Observer's annual "50 Most Important People in Commercial Real Estate Finance".

Mr. Lehrman is on the Advisory Boards of Columbia Business School - Paul Milstein Center for Real Estate; Zell-Lurie Real Estate Center at University of Pennsylvania - Wharton School of Business; Cornell School of Hotel Administration; Schack School of Real Estate - New York University Graduate School; and Fischer Center for Real Estate & Urban Economics - University of California, Berkeley Haas School of Business. He is also Executive Director of the Michael Lehrman Endowment at Columbia Business School.

Mr. Lehrman earned an MBA in both Real Estate and Finance from Columbia Business School, a Diploma in Real Estate from NYU Graduate School, and dual BS degrees in Industrial Management and Managerial Economics from Carnegie Mellon University. Mr. Lehrman is married to Marcy Lehrman and has four children, Mark (19), AJ (16), Billy (15) and Tess (12), and resides in New York City. The Lehrman family's philanthropic activities include providing medical, educational and financial support to children throughout the country.

Dear Friends and Colleagues,

Welcome to the 24th Annual AIR Society Benefit honoring
Michael Lehrman.

It is an honor to be involved with this incredible institution for which we are raising funds today. National Jewish Health is a highly renowned medical center that is changing lives all over the world. Its compassionate patient care and groundbreaking research are second to none, and we are so pleased that you have chosen to support this work.

Your generosity today enables National Jewish Health physicians and scientists to continue their pursuit of personalized medicine for children and adults with asthma. We extend a special thank you to each of you, as you are generously helping to support the millions of people who suffer from respiratory, cardiac, immune and related diseases.

Again, thank you to all of our supporters and to all of you who were able to attend tonight's festivities.

Sincerely,

Handwritten signatures of Stacey and Roger Silverstein in black ink.

Karen feared that her lung disease meant she would never dance again, but doctors at the leading respiratory hospital in the nation knew better. Since 1899, the innovative research and approaches to care at National Jewish Health in Denver have helped Karen and millions like her breathe easier. We believe that people with respiratory, heart and immune diseases should never hear “never” again.

Dear Friends,

Thank you for being a part of the AIR Society The Sky's the Limit Cocktail Benefit 2015. We appreciate your support of the institution.

For the talented physicians, researchers and staff at National Jewish Health, the "We Never Say Never[®]" mindset is at the core of what we do each and every day. Since 1899, we have taken on the toughest medical conditions and most challenging cases – finding answers that change our patients' lives and making discoveries that advance care for people across the globe.

Our donors have been with us every step of the way. Through your attendance tonight, you accelerate the pace of discovery by providing funding for innovative research and ensure that we can care for all patients, regardless of their ability to pay. You also help to educate and train the next generation of leaders in medicine and science through contributions to fellowships and endowments.

I hope you will have the opportunity to visit our campus, where you can see in person what makes National Jewish Health the leading respiratory hospital in the nation. Our website (njhealth.org) is also a resource to learn about our work and the conditions we treat.

Once again, we are grateful for your generosity. On behalf of everyone at National Jewish Health, thank you for joining us at the AIR Society The Sky's the Limit Cocktail Benefit. Warm regards.

Sincerely yours,

About the New York AIR Society

For Asthma, Immunology and Respiratory Medicine

In 1991, a group of young professionals came together to form the New York AIR Society, because some of them or their family members had been treated for asthma, allergies and/or immune system disorders at National Jewish Health. This common tie gave them the inspiration to assist National Jewish Health in its efforts.

The New York AIR Society is composed of a diverse group of ambitious young professionals from a variety of industries in New York. Since its inception, nearly $4 million has been raised to fund research, patient care, and clinical and educational programs at National Jewish Health, the leading respiratory hospital in the nation. National Jewish Health is known worldwide for the treatment of patients with respiratory, cardiac, immune and related disorders, and for groundbreaking medical research. Founded in 1899 as a nonprofit hospital, National Jewish Health remains the only facility in the world dedicated exclusively to these disorders (www.njhealth.org). In 2015, National Jewish Health and the Icahn School of Medicine at Mount Sinai created the Mount Sinai-National Jewish Health Respiratory Institute in New York City. For more information visit www.therespiratoryinstitute.org.

Each May, the AIR Society Committee plans an exciting night to honor a local leader who has shown devotion, talent and integrity in his or her industry. The Benefit includes terrific food, drink, live music, dancing and raffle prizes for nearly 400 professionals.

THE IRVING BORENSTEIN MEMORIAL AWARD

February 28, 1948 to January 17, 2011

A man of devotion, talent and integrity. For 32 years, Irving Borenstein was the guiding force of National Jewish Health in New York City, raising millions of dollars for patient care and research through the legendary Real Estate, Financial Industry and Retail Industry dinners. Irving's talent, dedication and integrity brought great honor to National Jewish Health and forged relationships of warmth and respect with some of the leading philanthropists in New York. Along the way, he earned the respect and esteem of the thousands his life touched.

BEHIND THE SCENES TOUR at National Jewish Health

Brian O'Connor, PhD, left, assistant professor in the Center for Genes, Environment and Health, discusses with Michael Lehrman in one of the institution's labs how National Jewish Health is seeking to understand how genes contribute to the development of disease.

Greg Cosgrove, MD, FCCP, right, assistant director of the Interstitial Lung Disease program at National Jewish Health, explains advances the institution is making in the treatment of this broad category of lung diseases, which are characterized by scarring and/or inflammation of the lungs. Tens of thousands of people are diagnosed with ILD each year. National Jewish Health has one of the largest and longest-standing ILD programs in the nation.

Our Mission since 1899 is to heal, to discover, and to educate as a preeminent health care institution.

We serve by providing the best integrated and innovative care for patients and their families; by understanding and finding cures for diseases we research; and by educating and training the next generation of health care professionals to be leaders in medicine and science.

Our Vision is to be the international leader in the research and treatment of respiratory, cardiac, immune and related diseases.

We pursue this vision by pioneering individualized medicine programs which embrace the paradigm shift from reactive medicine to proactive, personalized health care. These programs enable us to integrate the provision of outstanding patient care, the conduct of novel basic, translational and clinical research, and the education of health care and research professionals. Through our efforts, we seek to achieve cures for patients who seek treatment and to bring new knowledge and discoveries to help people worldwide.
